MARCH 2019 NEWSLETTER

Hello Fellow turners

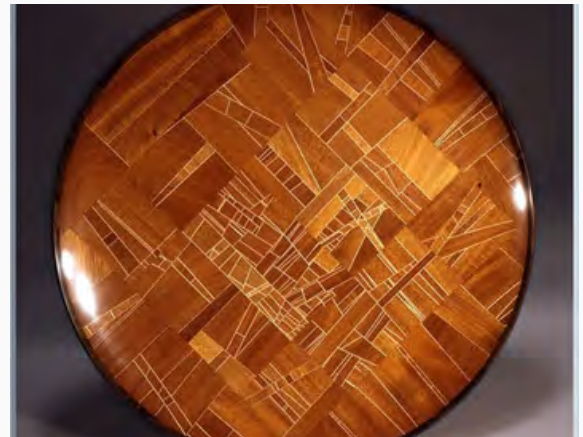

BY JOHN DUZAN, VICE-PRESIDENT

Hello fellow turners. This Monday, April 1st, 2019, we will continue our demonstration, video, and technique (DVT) series, the meeting will feature a video by Mike Mahoney of Provo Utah on turning a platter, NO FOOLING! This will start of our new three-month series based on turning platters. Come eager to learn and discuss your experiences in turning.

Please remember, we challenge you to make similar pieces to those demonstrated. At subsequent meetings we ask that you share with the club your turned piece(s), experience(s), and the technique(s) that you may have used or learned. Furthermore, the club would encourage those who have experience in turning these types of pieces to please bring some examples of your work, good or bad, to display at our Monday night meeting and to offer insight into what you have experienced in regards to the subject. As always at the end of the presentation you will have an opportunity to have a discussion and question/answer session period to open a dialogue on the subject of the night's meeting.

The format of DVT has be developed to inspire you as members and our guests to enhance your knowledge about the hobby of woodturning and to challenge you to create. We hope this method of presentation will spur each one of you to try new techniques, as we explore wood-turning through these sessions.

- John Duzan, Vice-President

Meeting Minutes

The March 2019 Tuckesseee Woodturners Club Meeting was called to order by President Steve Sabinash at 7:00 pm on Monday March 4th, 2019 at the FOP Lodge 2576 North Ford Street in Clarksville TN.

President Steve reminded members of the workshops and Saturday turn-ins coming up later this month.

The Vintage Fair is coming up again on April 27th, 2019 at Beech Haven Winery. John Hilborn is coordinating participation for the event and needs to know who plans to attend. Max Harris, Steve Sabinash, and Jim Mason indicated they plan to be there. Ben Ferguson volunteered a generator the club can use at the event. John needs a check to send in for the entry fee.

Jon Haigh reported there is a new fair this year in Cadiz KY sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. It will be held on May 4th. The entry fee is $25.00 per booth and Jon has the information. Contact him if you are interested.

Treasurer, Bob Forsythe, is at home recovering from shoulder surgery and is doing well.

President Steve will contact Bob and take care of sending the payment to AAW for our club insurance.

The woodcarving club is setting up a day long woodburning session Saturday March 9th. Our members are invited to attend. If interested, check with President Steve.

Each meeting, members bring in projects they have been working on and show them during "Show & Tell". Items displayed this month included:

Jim Mason - Cherry Box with Wood Burned Birds.
 Sugar Maple Bowl.
 Large Sugar Maple Bowl.
 Live Edge Maple Bowl.

Norbert Comtois - Shallow Memorial Platters in Honor of Clarence Duzan and Eddie Davidson.

Diane Filbeck - Sea Urchin and Walnut Ring Box.

Jon Haigh - Cherry Bowl.
 Walnut Celtic Wedding Goblet.
 Bubinga Platter.
 Infill Platter Experiment that didn't work.

Steve Sabinsh - Lidded Box made with wood from Hardwood International, formerly Averitt Lumber. They provide a discount on purchases if you identify yourself as a Tuckesseee Woodturners member.

John Duzan introduced Tim Powers who provided our program.

Tim is a member of our club. He demonstrated how he makes three leg stools using jigs he built. Tim will post plan for the jigs. Tim says he also likes to make planting Dibbles with inch marks along the side for use when planting the spring crops! In addition, Tim talked about Mallets he has made over the years. His favorite wood for Mallets is Black Locust and Persimmon.

Thanks, Tim, for an interesting and informative presentation.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:30 pm.
